

It's all about giving you end-to-end solutions to any kind of publication. The cutting edge technology at Gantec redefines the way books or any other large publications are carried out. Right from stage one of receiving the brief and the raw material from the client, we ensure that expert professionals lead the work on till the final stage of printing and delivering the finished copies to the client.

For the technological edge in publications

GANTEC offers a variety of ePublishing solutions ranging from low to high complexity of typesetting journals, books, newsletters and delivering high quality output in the shortest possible time.

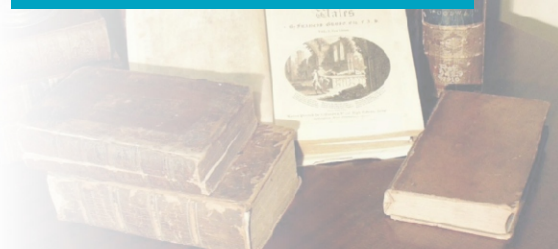

We lead the way in designing customized workflows and by applying the latest relevant tools deliver the following:

TYPESETTING

SCANNING & ARTWORK

ENABLED PRODUCTION

eDATA PROCESSING

TYPESETTING SERVICES

Our production team is well versed in all aspects of composition services of Novels, text books, technical journals and articles, heavily designed magazines and newsletters.

The following software is used for typesetting:

ENABLED PRODUCTION

GANTEC was early to realise the emergence of the web as a critical medium in the publishing domain. A XML/SGML based workflow has been in sharp contrast to the standard industry norm of converting from typeset pages to XML.

Typical projects that we can handle :

- Quark > SGML/XML/HTML/Cross Hyperlinked PDF
- TeX > XML
- DTD modification for medical journals
- XML DTD modification for encyclopaedia
- Creation of Word templates, XML DTD, XSL
- Keyboarding XML
- Conversion of legacy data
- In-house validation tools for XML checking
